Recently I wrote DYNAMITE applauding one of the equine products, TNT. Now I want to speak up about Wound Balm which I have used for 5 years. I keep one jar at the barn, one in my bath medicine cabinet, one in my gym bag and a fourth jar, unopened, as an extra to give as a gift to any one of my “horse” friends.

Wound Balm is the best thing on the market for keeping flies out of my horses’ ears. I apply it a couple of times each week during the fly season and never have a problem with them any longer.

I also use the Balm on my feet regularly. After swimming and all during the dry winter months, I rub a thin coat on the bottoms of my feet. Of course Wound Balm is great too for scratches, cuts, and scars on both horses and humans. And I love the odor—smells just like shoe polish!

Another great product from DYNAMITE that I cannot do without!
