Most iron supplements, including pre-natal preparations, consist of ferrous fumarate, an intestinal irritant which can cause nausea. The sulfate and oxide forms are inorganic and totally indigestible; in fact, they will show up on X-rays and are passed right through the colon.

On the other hand, DYNAMITE® Iron +2 contains two targeted amino acid chelates to aid assimilation. Many individuals who have been unable to tolerate other iron supplements, can take these with absolutely no adverse effects. ■
